Welcome to the Nation Safe Drivers Traceable Theft Protection Program

How and why does it work?

In the United States alone a vehicle is stolen every 20 seconds. That's over 1 million vehicles every year. Most are never recovered. The ones that are recovered usually have thousands of dollars in repairs. And if you have a deductible, you'll have to pay to get it repaired.

So how do you protect yourself? The NSD Traceable THEFT Protection Program is a highly effective way to keep your car safe from professional thieves. The NSD Traceable THEFT Protection Program provides a unique identification code that is permanently affixed to your vehicle. Because thieves know that vehicles equipped with such a protection system are easily traceable by police, they frequently will seek out an easier target.

Insurance companies know that the NSD Traceable THEFT Protection Program is an effective theft deterrent, and that is why this program meets many insurance carriers' requirements for anti-theft system premium discounts.
